The measure of red

Two upright ruby baguettes mark twelve on Quiet Gravity Ruby. Their deep red is concentrated in the space above the applied A.R. signature. The warm cream around them gives the two stones a clear outline.

The 28 mm case keeps the elements close. Leaf-shaped hands cross the centre of the dial, with a separate small-seconds register at six. Black leather gives the yellow-gold case design a clean edge at the wrist.

The sculpted crown sits on the case flank. A hand-wound movement and exhibition back are the development direction for this reference.

Gemstone selection

Two natural ruby baguettes. Match face-up red, dimensions, outline and alignment. Reject diffusion-treated, dyed or fracture-filled stones. Any heat treatment requires written approval before purchase.

Every finished gemstone must be individually identifiable on a GIA report. The watch or set will include the report or a complete copy for each stone.
